DETAILED ACTION

In order to set forth new grounds of rejection, this application has been returned to non-final status.

MPEP 2308.03 Interference Proceedings, Estoppel Within the Office

1. If a party loses on an issue, it may not re-litigate the issue before the examiner or in a subsequent Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (Board) proceeding. The time for the party to make all pertinent arguments is during the interference, unless the Board expressly prevented the party from litigating the issue during the interference.

2. There are two main types of interference estoppel. First, a losing party is barred on the merits from seeking a claim that would have been anticipated or rendered obvious by the subject matter of the lost count. In re Deckler, 977 F.2d 1449, 24 USPQ2d 1448 (Fed. Cir. 1992); Ex parte Tytgat, 225 USPQ 907 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1985). Second, a losing party is procedurally barred from seeking from the examiner relief that could have been--but was not--sought in the interference. 37 CFR 41.127(a)(1); Ex parte Kimura, 55 USPQ2d 1537 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 2000) (reissue applicant estopped to claim compound when patentability of that compound could have been put in issue in interference where opponent's application also described compound).

3. Claims 17, 18, 20 and 21 are rejected as being unpatentable under the principles of res judicata and collateral estoppel (In re Deckler, 977 F.2d 1449, 24 USPQ2d 1448 (Fed. Cir. 1992)).

4. Prosecution in the instant application was suspended pending the outcome of Interference No. 105,092. The interference was decided September 16, 2005. The instant application and US Pat. No. 6,437,064, the losing party of the interference proceeding, are commonly owned. In the decision, claims 1-3, 6-19, and 22-39 of US Patent No. 6,437,064 were held unpatentable (last page of document).

5. A double patenting rejection was made and a terminal disclaimer was filed between the instant application and patent number 6,437,064; this clearly establishes the relationship between the claims of the patent and instant application.

Art Unit: 1773

6. Claims 17 and 18 of the instant application is directed to the same invention as claims 36 and 39 of 6,437,064. The claims lost in the interference include five-layer structures comprising a barrier layer and surface layers containing single site catalyzed polyolefin in which layer five comprised EVA, in which the barrier layer can be EVOH. The instant claims cover multilayer structures having a barrier layer (EVOH), intermediate layers, a surface layer comprising single site catalyzed polyolefin, and a surface layer comprising EVA.

7. Claims 20, and 21 of the instant application are obvious variants of lost count as it would have been obvious to vary the thickness of the film layers depending on the end use of the film and to make it into a package.

8. The examiner also notes that the subject matter of claims 17, 18, 20 and 21 correspond in concept to claims 11, 18 and 22 of patent number (5,604,043) which is owned by Cryovac, the senior party in the decision of the interference. It would have been obvious to vary the thickness of the film layers depending on the end use of the film and to make it into a package.

9. For the reasons set forth above, the applicants are not entitled to claims 17, 18, 20 and 21 of the instant application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 17, 18, 20 and 21 rejected are under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 1773

3. The numbering of the layers is confusing. It is unclear what structure is intended.

There appear to be two layer "two".
